Ingersoll Rand appoints Ravi Kumar Dhulipala as Head – Strategic Markets, India

New Delhi, July 27, 2012 – Ingersoll Rand (NYSE: IR), the $14.0 billion globally diversified industrial technology company has appointed Ravi Kumar Dhulipala as Head – Strategic Markets for its India operations. In his current role, Ravi will be creating end to end solutions that encompass multiple sector interventions in Strategic Markets, where the company sees growth. He will also be responsible for building relationships with key stakeholders and create opportunities for the organization to provide comprehensive solutions by deploying integrated solutions based on multiple product offerings.

Ravi joins Ingersoll Rand from GE, where he was responsible for the gas engine business for the India region. Ravi has 16 years of experience among a diverse set of industries with proficiency in different areas of business like conceptualizing business strategy, product development, supply chain development, operations, business development and marketing. He has been a part of several strategic initiatives in his various roles with organizations like ITC, Reliance, HUL and BP.

Commenting on the appointment Venkatesh Valluri, Chairman and President, Ingersoll Rand India said, “Ingersoll Rand sees several growth opportunities to meet India’s growing demand for personal security, energy efficiency, food security and home automation. We continue to grow and provide value by innovating and product reengineering to suit the India market. Ravi joins us at this crucial juncture to drive some of these growth markets which will enable us to expand the range of our products and solutions in India.”

Ravi is a Chemical and Bio Engineer from National Institute of Technology, Jalandhar and holds an MBA from ISB Hyderabad in “Strategic Marketing”. He has also holds an Executive MBA from Georgia Tech University in the field of Energy. Ravi is a certified TPM Instructor from Japan Institute of Plant Maintenance and holds nine international patents and two design registrations.
